“ I remember her as Sister Barbara Kay, my first grade teacher, at St. Wenceslaus School in 1968. I remember her vividly and she made such a positive impression on me, even at that young age. May she Rest In Peace and my sincerest condolences to her family.

“ I was a next door neighbor to Kay in the 1950's. I was a very shy young boy then. I too remember that wonderful smile, and the kindness she had for everyone.

I recall an event at the Peoples Drug store behind our homes at my age of 8. Kay was sitting at the soda fountain counter with a girl friend. She saw me an aisle away, and said "Hi Raymond!" with that big smile. I came over, and she gave me a message for my mother. I started to leave, and she said "I have something for you" She kissed me on my forehead. Of course, I blushed, and she really got a kick out of that. After I got outside, I smiled. I'm 70 now, and that event seems like yesterday.

Don't remember the message for my mother, though.

My condolences to you, Raymond, family, and her many friends. Kay was a wonderful person, and she surely is with God now.

“ It has been years since I last saw Barbara but remember her for her kind, quiet ways and beautiful smile. I have held her and family in prayer over the years, especially her husband who Barbara cared for with such dedication.
May Barbara know the love and joy of her new home.
Blessings and sympathy to her family.

Barbara Kay and I were in the same doctoral program at The Catholic University of America. She was fun to be with and a good student. A few of us regularly got together to laugh, study, and provide moral support in this rigorous doctoral program. Barbara Kay was a genuinely sincere and kind person. I have no doubt that she led a fulfilling life.
