“ I think one funny memory I have of Ben is when I walked downstairs one night to find him watching a movie by himself. It was either the old BBC version of Pride and Prejudice or Fiddler on the Roof. He didn't glance my way at all. He just smiled, knowing that I'd caught him watching one of my favorites.

“ Ben, you have been taken too young but have left us with fond thoughts and memories we will cherish forever. Your quick wit, musical talent, songs, and quotes will always be cherished and you have left a lasting impression on all of us who you have given the honor of being part of your friends and family network. Your departure has left many of our hearts broken or missing a piece - that piece you completed by being our Ben. Know you are loved, missed, and will never be forgotten. Family and friends, especially Dianna and Christa, I do not have the words to make this better or even lessen the severity of your feelings other than I will be there as you heal, close by if you wish, and in the distance if you need space. Ben, I love and miss you and thank you for the wonderful ride you took me on the last few years! Bryan Greenfarb
