“ I was one of Sister Bernadette's students at St. Michael's Business School. I have very fond memories of sister. She was a very kind and caring person, always willing to listen and help with any problems her students may be experiencing. Although we were ages 14 and 15, she treated us as adults as she prepared us to go out into the working world.

As her former students married, she often sang at their weddings.

I am always amazed when I meet women who went to St. Michael's (as a matter of fact I worked in a small law firm and three of the secretaries had been students at St. Michael's, one, other than myself, who was taught by Sister Bernadette. Of everyone I have spoken with, we all agree it was the best two years of our lives, largely from the caring and example of teachers such as Sister Bernadette.

My deepest sympathy to her fellow Sisters and her family.
