“ Still can't believe you're gone... and that we can no longer talk or have our little field trips. I will miss your calls and questions, and unnecessary apologies for taking my time... I enjoyed every second... I have cherished, and now even more, all the uplifting reminiscences... and so many stupid little things...

What an inspiration and comfort you've been all these years... from the airport, to Frisby, to Mathews, and all the other places, and all the history over all the years...

How proud you'd have been to see Nicole, and Reese, and Laura and so many others speaking your spirit, and bearing, and baring, the loss we all feel. With everyone else, I am sad... but also so happy you have been in my life.

Thank you to everyone who helped celebrate that difficult day. What a consolation that we have so many joyous memories and such rich history to share with the young ones, and counterbalance this heavy absence.
