

Mrs. Elena Ivanovna Kashina

December 16, 1946 - December 22, 2017

Elena Ivanovna Kashina, December 16, 1946 – December 22, 2017

Elena Ivanovna Kashina, a retired Russian Physicist who made Baltimore County her home for the last 12 years, died from complications related to her struggle with cancer. She had just celebrated her 71st birthday.

Kashina was born in Severomorsk, Russia, and lived most of her life in Nizhniy Novgorod. She was the daughter of Ivan Vasilyavich Lotvinov, a World War II veteran who fought with the allied forces, and Ekaterina Ivanovna Bokareva.

She earned her master's degree at Gorky State University (now Nizhniy Novgorod State University), where she met her husband, Alexei Kashin, one of her classmates.

In 2005, shortly after the death of her husband, Kashina immigrated to the United States to live closer to her only daughter, Nataliya Goodman, and Nataliya's family. Kashina lived in the Rogers Forge community of Baltimore County since coming to the United States. Despite her long career in Russia, she considered caring for her grandchildren to be her most rewarding position. She was affectionately known as "Babu," short for Babushka (Russian for Grandmother) by friends and neighbors.

Kashina is survived by her daughter, Nataliya Alexeevna Kashina, son-in-law, Eric D. Goodman, granddaughter, Nicole Evonne Goodman, and grandson, Alexander Clarke Goodman, all of whom live in Rogers Forge, as well as her younger sister, Irene Ungefug, who currently resides in Germany.
