

Mr. George Greeley Rodgers

November 28, 1940 - December 6, 2024

George Greeley Rodgers, 84, a career newspaper reporter and Assistant Managing Editor for the Baltimore Evening Sun, a loving and devoted husband, father, and grandfather, and a seeker of truth who inspired family, friends, and colleagues, left us peacefully on the evening of December 6. A graduate of Williams College and Columbia University School of Journalism, he was predeceased by his parents, Wellington Rodgers and Mary Rodgers (nee Blodgett), his brother Charles Rodgers, his sister Dorinda Fletcher, and his son Jared Rodgers. He leaves behind his wife Margaret Rodgers (nee Brister) of Rodgers Forge, his son Adam Rodgers (Jenny) of Ellicott City, his step-sons Charles Greenman (Jennifer) of Garnet Valley, PA and Thomas Greenman (Sabrina) of Brooklyn, NY, his grandchildren Margaret, Aaron, and Levi, and his step-grandchildren Wendy, Justin, Amanda, and Maxwell.

Services are private. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made in his name to Maryland Public Television (<https://donate.mpt.org/mptv/tribute>)

“ I recall George as an editor with a quiet, low-key demeanor and sharp wit. May his memory be eternal.

“ I've always remembered George as assistant city editor of the Evening Sun, seemingly cool and inflexible as the first edition deadline neared in the early 70's. When he raised an arm though the sweat was real. A really nice guy always, in the Eve Sun tradition.
