He was a proud graduate of Loyola Blakefield, Class of '66, and an alum of Towson State University. After graduating, Jack had a long career working in the insurance industry.

Jack was the cherished husband of Jane P. Graham (née Principio). Together, they shared a life full of laughter, love, and countless memories. Jack was a devoted father to his children, John A. Graham and Audrey L. Graham, who, along with her husband Patrick Carroll, were a source of pride and joy in his life.

He was a loving brother to Carol Graham and her husband Greg, Debbie Wade and her late husband Scott, and Susie Koehler and her husband Paul. He was a beloved uncle to many nieces and nephews. He is also survived by his sister-in-law Anita Meros and her husband, Stan.

He had a deep passion for youth sports, especially baseball, and dedicated many seasons to coaching Little League teams. Jack was also a passionate fan of Baltimore sports. He loved following his high school alma mater's football team, the Dons as well as the Colts, Orioles and later Ravens.

His infectious smile and easygoing nature made him a friend to all. His dedication to his family and his unwavering support will be remembered as his greatest gifts.

A service will be held in his honor. In lieu of flowers, the family asks that donations be made in his name to Bello Machre—a cause close to Jack's heart. <https://bellomachre.org/donate/#donate-now>

“ Jack O Jack,

I was a co worker with him in the insurance industry where he shared his immense knowledge of the loss control/ risk management side of the industry. He provided great insight on what ever the risk at hand would be and would freely give of himself to help out and provide insight.

It wasn't all work for Jack , after a hard weeks work on the road visiting accounts , we would leave the office and share a few moments at a local watering hole. We would talk over the week, commiserate about the hardships of the job and stay a few minutes too long I suppose before he would prompt me that it was time for us both to head home to our families.

What I remember most about Jack was his infectious laugh and his love of life.

Jane ,Jack was in love with you and was grateful for your love , the comfort that you gave and the help in holding down the fort. Jane I am sorry that I missed his mass and I want you to feel free to call me at any time and to get together with Ona and I when you are ready

He always remembered to call me on my birthday to wish me well and reminisce about the times we shared together.

He has moved on to better things and left the troubles of this world to those that remain.

Jack, I'll miss yee

“ Too many years since I've seen Jack & Jane. I knew him when we were in our twenties, and he earned status as a living legend. Good to know he settled down to be to a respectable citizen's life; but last time I saw him, at Joe Lochary's funeral, I could tell, by his humor, he'd retained that something untamed in him that made him who he was, and kept him amused at life its very own self.

He'd be the first to tell you: he married well.

“ So, so sad to hear about Jack's passing. During our high school years, Jack and I worked together and shared many lifelong memories. Probably one of the best looking guys I ever knew — that black hair and blue eyes impressed many young ladies. He was a good friend. Condolences to his wife, son and daughter.

“ Jack was the best man in my wedding. We met at Loyola High School and worked together in the Maryland National Bank building on Baltimore and Light streets in downtown Baltimore. Spent many memorable lunch hours at the Lexington Market, Pollock Johnny's and Jos. A. Banks. Among many enjoyable trips over the years, Ireland stands out - Jack was the best of us driving on the wrong side of the road and shifting gears with his left hand. Wish we could do it all over again. Condolences to the family.

“ Jack was a classmate of mine at Loyola High School class of 1966. He was in our group of our west end guys in Catonsville and Ellicott City. His wit and excellent smile will always be a treasure for me. It was always great to see him in class and commiserate when we got into some behavior stuff with the faculty. Jack's friendship to me during those years will always be remembered. I wish his family peace during this time. Jeff Hahn Estero, Florida

“ Jack was my brother. Although he had been ill for some time, his passing was very sudden. I pray his wife, son and daughter will find peace and strength during this extremely difficult time. We will all miss him dearly. RIP dear Jack, from your loving sister, Carol.

“ I've known Jack since 1973. Jack is - like the song says - "Unforgettable". We had many sports-related trips to Pitt Panthers football games and to Philadelphia Phillies baseball games at The Vet (in the 1970's) and at Citizens Bank Park. As well as a few non-sports-related outings to the Lexington Market. He was always having a good time. Jack's recollection of things that happened long ago was uncanny! Jack, I'm gonna miss you.
