“Kathy was a huge part of my childhood, growing up across the street from her on Burton Ave. Just a bit older than me she was like a sister. We spent many, many summer nights outside under the street light on the corner of her yard laughing and talking. Kathy never said a harsh word about anyone. Though we were quite different in height she often supplied me with outfits to wear, once even a gown for a dance I attended, she made it work! When I graduated she was responsible for getting me a job at Western Electric. We kept in touch all these years. She loved her brother dearly and of course, her cats. It saddens me to think there will be no more meeting her for lunch. I know she was a Christian, we often spoke of God. She is now pain and limitations free. A treasured friendship I already miss. Rest In Peace Kathy til we meet again.
