“ Dear Ken,

It has been a long time since we met for the last time in Baltimore and I am sorry I cannot not say goodbye to you in person today. I keep wonderful memories of the time when I was part of your family, and you made me really feel so. Little flashes come to my mind: your meticulous cooking of the turkey in Christmas, the July “crab festival” in the backyard to celebrate your birthday, the never ending and almost completed gigantic puzzles, the recorded David Letterman TV shows, and, of course, the long reading sessions of the “Baltimore Sun” and “The New York Times” weekend editions during breakfast, in your sunny dining room, silent as a library. It has been a privilege to know you and to be part of that. Farewell and rest in peace.
