“ To Don, Anna, & all the Family From Stephanie Milford Copeland

I loved that my early (Milford) years enjoyed a wonderful friendship with the Sicklers, and I am sending all of you so much Love and ongoing Warmth and Hugs.

Each of us finds what is most soothing in life and at times of death, and I hope it's OK if I share something from a source (Abraham-Hicks) that continually buoys me up. It is joyful and yet never disrespectful of whatever one feels.

"There is never a reason to feel any grief about the re-emergence. It is a new beginning of extraordinary proportion. It is a goal, it is an objective, it is a knowing that is calling, that is so powerful that there is a joyous romping beyond description. If you could feel the way those Non-Physical Energies feel once they have made their transition and they are re-focused from that broader perspective, having left behind any resistance that has kept this place from being that for them, you would never again feel that for them."
