

Mrs. Lynn Taylor Hebden

October 15, 1930 - February 3, 2013

On February 3, 2013 Lynn Taylor Hebden; beloved wife of the late Raymond Kenneth Hebden and devoted mother of Kenneth L. Hebden of Lake Falls Village, Baltimore; Jeffrey T. Hebden of Ednor Gardens, Baltimore and Douglas S. Hebden of Reisterstown, MD; loving grandmother of Taylor and David Hebden.

Interment private.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to Walden School, 31-A 29th Street, San Francisco, CA 94110 or The Peabody Institute, Peabody Development Office, 1 E. Mt. Vernon Place, Baltimore, MD 21202.

Previous Events

Memorial Service

FEB 18. 10:30 AM (ET)

Grace United Methodist Church
5407 N. Charles Street
Baltimore, MD 21210

Tribute Wall

HR

“ Thank you for all you did. Your Walden Family will always be grateful for all your contributions. You will truly be missed.

*with love,
Hrilina*

Hrilina - February 21, 2013 at 10:25 AM

JC

“ My love to all of you. Lynn's passing feels like parts of a deep tree root being cut.

I can hear Lynn's voice so strongly. What a wonderful woman. She was like a mother to so many of us! (I hope you don't mind me writing that.)

There's one German song that always makes me think of her. I'm sure it's because of those "rep" classes on Tuesday or Wednesday afternoons at the prep years ago..."Widmung" by Schumann.

Although it's love song, I think the words are fitting now : "You my soul, you my heart,

you my bliss, o you my pain,

you the world in which I live; you my heaven, in which I float,

o you my grave, into which I eternally cast my grief.

You are rest, you are peace, you are bestowed upon me from heaven..."

Lynn is so much a part of the reason I do what I've been doing everyday of my life for the last 40 years.

I'll be with you all in thought tomorrow.

*Much love,
Jeff Cohen*

Jeffrey Cohen - February 17, 2013 at 03:34 PM

JC

“ Jeffrey Cohen lit a candle in memory of Mrs.
Lynn Taylor Hebden

Jeffrey Cohen - February 17, 2013 at 03:25 PM