“Mary Louise was one of the most selfless people I have ever known. She always put the welfare of others before herself. My late husband, Dr. Bernard McGibbon, and I met Mary Louise and Hank, just prior to their marriage. We spent so many lovely evenings with them having dinners at their favorite restaurants. She was so dedicated to Hank, as he was to her. She lived her life to make sure that Hank had every happiness she could provide in the last years of his life. She was an extraordinary human being. She made the world a better place.
