

Sister Maura Walsh M.H.S.H.

May 18, 1924 - May 2, 2015

Sister Maura Walsh, a member of Baltimore's Mission Helpers of the Sacred Heart Community for 69 years, died on May 2 at Stella Maris in Timonium, Maryland. She was 91 years old.

Born and raised in Brooklyn, New York, her ministry was one of religious education, and her focus was on teaching adults how to teach religion and prepare children for the sacraments. Her early ministries took her to Arizona, where she taught on an Indian reservation, in a gold mining town and at a school established by the Mission Helpers. She also taught religion at U.S. Army posts in Germany and conducted family workshops for the Air Force in Germany, Holland and Spain.

In Baltimore, she served as Director of Religious education at three parishes over three decades: St. Dominic, St. Anthony of Padua and St. Clement. St. Maura held a bachelor's degree in Social Sciences from Loyola University Maryland and a master's degree in Theology from St. Mary's Seminary and University in Baltimore. She also taught at St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute.

She is survived by a sister, Loretta Marshall, and a brother, John Walsh, both of California; and Ray and Pierrette Walsh, a brother and sister-in-law, of Delaware. Many nieces and nephews also survive her.

Visitation Thursday, May 7, 4:00 to 5:00 p.m.; Vigil Service at 6:30. Mass of Christian Burial Friday, May 8 at 11:00 a.m.—all at Mission Helper Center Chapel.

In lieu of flowers, contributions in Sister Maura's memory may be sent to the Mission Helpers of the Sacred Heart, 1001 W. Joppa Road, Baltimore, Maryland, 21204.
