

Miss Nancy Lois Freeberger

March 17, 1936 - January 19, 2024

Nancy L. Freeberger, born March 17, 1936, Carney, Md.

She died on Jan. 19, 2024 while at Sinai Hospital in Baltimore. She died from complications due to pneumonia.

Parents: Walter G. Freeberger and Henrietta E. Freeberger (Schreiber).

Nancy was the youngest of five children. The others were Helena McNeal, Doris Albro, Elizabeth Freeberger, and Walter A. Freeberger Jr., all of Baltimore. All are deceased.

The family moved to the Hamilton neighborhood of Baltimore in the early 1940s. Nancy graduated in 1954 from Eastern High School and in 1958 from Towson State Teachers College. She spent her career working as a third-grade teacher, first in Baltimore and later in Baltimore County.

As a young woman, Nancy took piano lessons. The family has fond memories of the times when Nancy would play the piano and her father would accompany her on his violin. In her later years, Nancy took organ lessons.

One of Nancy's pastimes was to travel, particularly to Europe. Starting in the 1960s, her and her older sister Elizabeth would take a tour almost every summer to various parts of Europe. Her favorite country was Switzerland, her father's place of ancestry, which she visited multiple times.

In her later years, Nancy also developed an interest in genealogy and spent time researching the ancestry of her parents. Her mother's family traced their roots back to Bavarian province of Germany.

She is survived by 11 nieces and nephews as well as multiple grand-nieces and nephews and other relatives.

Donations can be made to St. Andrews Lutheran Church, 1201 Taylor Avenue, Parkville, MD 21234
