“ Kelly,
I'm so sorry that you're going through this terrible loss of your dad. I'd like to extend my deepest sympathies to all of your family. I know how close you were to your dad. I was just getting to know him, and with the warm weather ahead, I really thought I'd get to spend some time talking to him. He reminded me of everyone's dad. That should make you feel good. I even called him dad. Please don't blame yourself for allowing him to get the clot medicine. My mom didn't make it either. After talking to my brother, who has been an ICU nurse for 40 some years, the risk was, and will always be better than not giving him the chance. I hope that stories about him will be shared when you can! He always made me laugh. I pray that the good memories will bring you comfort, in the weeks ahead. If you feel like talking, or having a drink, and not talking, I'm here for you!

Again, I am so sorry.

“ I'll ways remember seeing Uncle Sonny at The Village Inn. I used to walk in & he would be at the bar. Rest in Peace, there is no more pain.

“ About two years ago, my husband and I got to spend an evening with Mr. Sonny at the American Legion. He was such a kind man with a big personality! He made us both feel right at home, like we had known him forever. After that, I would run into him at Walmart, so much that, I started calling him my Walmart Buddy. He would get a big chuckle out of it every time. Rest in peace, my Walmart Buddy!
