“ My condolences to the Fenchak family. So many wonderful memories of Uncle Paul, particularly at the Ukrainian Festivals! I remember helping him one day when he came to the Fine Arts Department at Enoch Pratt Library. He was doing research on one of his favorite topics: minor league baseball history. Then, when going through my father's papers, I found letters Uncle Paul wrote to his brother in the mid-20th century. An interesting insight into life at that time.

May God welcome Uncle Paul with open arms. Just imagine the family reunion!

Thank you Daria. Those kind words mean a lot. Baltimore was an ugly place. Glad he's out of this town.
