“Sandy was a precious gift to my life and all those she touched. She gave more gifts to the lives that crossed with hers than we sometimes want to face. She taught us patience and understanding on a level we may have never experience in a world that strives for perfection.

She taught us to view life through her eyes and in her world. They were priceless lessons my sister and I will carry forever. Sandy was feisty and fun and had a zest for life that could not be harnessed by anyone. Her Uncle Vic certainly tried. Sandy wouldn't get in our backyard pool so dad threw her in and bent at the waist in only 3 feet of water she stayed. Dad jumped in fully clothed and stood her up. Sandy laughed. She knew how to beat him. Sandy refused to go downstairs one weekend when she stayed with us. Dad was going to get down those steps no matter what. He tried to pull her down and she was too strong. So dad got behind her and tried to push but Sandy was smarter. She propped one foot on one side of the wall and other foot on the other side and there she stayed. Dad gave up. Her Uncle Vic went downstairs to the kitchen. And low and behold who came down and sat with him with a smirk? Sandy. She was a hoot. I will miss making her Easter baskets and Christmas bags of her favorite things. Sandy lived her life to the fullest and is now resting in peace ... that perfect angel with her halo and wings zipping through the heavens in the arms of the Lord, her loving and devoted parents and all those aunts and uncles, teachers and friends whose lives she touched forever.

“Eternal rest grant unto her, oh Lord. And let perpetual light shine upon her. May she Rest In Peace. Amen.”

“ Sandy was one of the first friends I made at Gundry Center. We were both a lot younger and feistier back in those days. I'm smiling while reading that she kept her sass. Good for her. Rest in Peace dear friend, thanks for making us laugh, making us feel special and keeping us on our toes. You will be missed.

“ Sandy Bathgate will be sorely missed here at Athelas. The Gwynn Oak Center will not be the same without you. I will not have anyone anymore who will give me a kiss on the cheek every morning. You have gone home to be with the Lord and your parents.
