Mr Brown was my barber for many years. He was one of most well read men I know. He always had a book that he was reading and ideas that he wanted to discuss. His conversation could go far beyond the normal sports and political talk that you get a lot of places. He also worked at Centre Stage and was comfortable talking plays with you. Going to get a cut from Mr Brown was like visiting a friend. I will truly miss him. My deepest sympathy to friends and family
